Young Bordeaux after being hospitalized in Pahokee continued for several hours to bleed from an ear before regaining consciousness. Young Mosley lost two toes in the mishap and further amputation was necessary and this was scheduled to be done in a West Palm Beach hospital.

Reports on young Bordeaux at press time were to the effect that X-rays would be necessary before it could be determined whether or not he had suffered a fractured skull.

Young Bordeaux and his father live in Canal Point and young Mosley lives in Pahokee.

Auxiliary Collects $500 For Hospital

A total of $500.50 was collected in membership fees in the annual membership drive of the Hospital Auxiliary of the Everglades Memorial Hospital, according to Mrs. Frank Friend, auxiliary president, who is in charge of the drive. The money received was used for the purchase of a diathermy machine with electro-surgical unit which is being presented to the Everglades Memorial Hospital this week.

With the drive successfully concluded, Mrs. Friend thanks the 14 representatives of the various church, civic and fraternal organizations in the Pahokee-Canal Point area, who form the executive board of the auxiliary and who served as area captains in the drive, and all others, including the contributing public, who assisted in any way.

The City of Pahokee will seek enactment of several new laws in the forthcoming session of the legislature, according to City Attorney Ralph Johnson who presented the city's legislative program to the Palm Beach County legislative delegation in West Palm Beach last Friday.

Two of the important charter changes to be sought by the City Council have to do with the manner in which the city clerk and chief of police will secure their jobs in the future. At present the city clerk and chief of police offices are elective and every two years they go before the voters and present their platforms in an effort to secure support of the citizens and taxpayers. The manner of selecting the officials at present is left up to the voters and usually they have a choice as each of the two offices draws a large list of entrants every two years.

Under the new law to be passed in Tallahassee next month the chief of police and the city clerk will be appointed by the city council, thereby taking away from the voters a privilege they have enjoyed for many years.

Revival Planned Pahokee Baptist

The Rev. Verne F. Oglesby of Decatur, Ill. will conduct a revival at the First Baptist Church in Pahokee starting March 13 and continuing through March 20. A prayer meeting for adults and young people will precede each evening service.

Special music will be a feature of every service. A Men's Chorus will lead in the singing of hymns and the rendition of special choruses. These singers will be assisted by the Junior Choir. Mrs. Verne F. Oglesby will play one of the twin pianos.

The Rev. Oglesby has held pastorate in both Illinois and Missouri and has served on evangelistic missions in several states. Among his achievements was the organization of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Decatur with 39 charter members and in seven years building the membership to 900, as well as church sanctuary with a seating serving the construction of a new capacity of 1,000.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The County Commission this week received a bid of $8,000 for construction of two additional miles of Okeelanta Road in the Everglades and instructed the board's engineer to complete the contract.

Lone bidder on the project was the Glades Production Company.

The project is one that was requested some time ago by Commissioner Paul Rardin, who already had won approval for a section of the road already completed.

Other bids received by the board this week included several for construction of a one-room addition to the County Negro Children's Home in Riviera Beach. Apparent low bidder on the project was Robert C. Brown with a price of $2,350.

In actions on other bids, the commission made plans to call for bids for remodeling the court house, returnable June 6. The $700,000 remodeling program is the second part of a capital improvement program that calls for construction of a new county administration building in West Palm Beach, remodeling the court house and remodeling the county jail.

The commission awarded the Birdsall Construction Company of Palm Beach a contract for construction of a new county office building. Birdsall submitted a price of $115,078. County Engineer Steve Middleton said the new office building would be completed about the time the court house remodeling program was up for bids. Some county officers now located in the east wing of the court house will have temporary quarters in the new office building until the court house job is completed.

The commission also approved contracts this week to a number of bidders which included Paul & sons, construction of an air freight room at International Airport on a bid of $805; sale of a county owned dredge to Gene Dyer for $12,660; aerial mapping job to Abrams Aerial Survey Corp. on a bid of $1,505.50; Dictaphone machine to the Lanier Corp. for $440.57 and truck bids to Blank and Smith Motors, Bev. Smith Ford Inc. and the Faircloth Truck and Tractor Company.

In other actions the commission: Voted to call for bids for culverts to be used in rebuilding of Hood Road.

Approved a revised resolution to the Turnpike Authority asking the plans for the tollway include provisions for grade separations for a number of east-west county roads. The commission previously adopted a similar resolution and revised the request to meet a change in the turnpike route. Middleton said the present proposed toll road would be located west of the original proposed turnpike.

The board approved the request of the Town of Greenacres for the loan of a voting machine for a municipal election May 3 and approved a Rolling Green sub-division plat in Boynton Beach.

RACING TAXES

The County Commission this week received a $35,000 payment from the state which is Palm Beach County's regular payment from racing taxes. The board also received a gas payment of $8,757 and a $1 check from the government as compensation for an agreement to allow military planes to fly over the county agricultural buildings on Military Trail.

The grass course at Hialeah, built in 1932, is the oldest at any American track, and the $50,000 Hialeah Turf Handicap is the nation's oldest consecutive grass stakes.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Miller

Hello everybody! I am not writing about movie stars this week, I am writing about an incident that touched me deeply, as I know it will you. Driving down Main street the other night I chanced upon a small gathering of children, performing a very solemn and sad task. Lying on the sidewalk was a small dog who had been struck by an auto and killed. I have never seen such tenderness exhibited among a group of small children as I witnessed here. They had brought along some newspapers and one of the children carefully spread the papers on the pavement alongside the little body. . . . Then one of the boys knelt down and tenderly, gently lifted the lifeless body onto the paper, another child wrapped the paper around the little fellow, and sadly . . . yes very sadly, they carried him away. I didn't get the names of the children. . . I didn't go near them. . . I don't believe I could have swallowed that lump in my throat or offered my sympathy. But I know that in the hearts of those small children there was a great sadness for the loss of a playmate who had furnished them with so many happy hours. . . . And I know that their little pal was tenderly laid to rest in a grave that will be kept neat and nice for a long time. See you at the movies—Mal.

From where I sit... by Joe Marshall

Uses His Head
Saves His Feet

Nobody around here can remember when Pop Turner wasn't our town's postman. He must have been totting that big, heavy mail-bag since Pony Express days.

That's why it's sometimes a shock to see him these days pulling his mail bag around in a "caddy cart," a sort of light wagon that golfers use so they don't have to carry their clubs.

"Folks sometimes holler 'fore' at me and ask me how my game is," Pop reports, "but I'm not ashamed to learn something new. Just wish I'd thought about these golf gadgets years ago!"

From where I sit, it's good to see someone come up with a new wrinkle—keeps us from feeling too regimented. For instance, perhaps you've always felt that hot milk is the only thing to drink at bedtime. Then someday you meet a fellow who prefers a cold glass of beer. Well, that's his choice — and certainly he's entitled to it. We can't expect everyone to follow our old habits to the "letter."

Joe Marshall

Mrs. H. B. Cross and Family.

Unique Signs Halt Speeding Motorists

George Miller of West Palm Beach, a member of the United Commercial Travelers, has an unusual sign on the back of his car which attracts a great deal of attention when he rides down the highway. As a member of the traveling men's organization, Mr. Miller and his many co-workers are interested in highway safety. As a result this unique sign has been devised and will be seen on many traveling men's cars in the future.

The circular sign about 30 inches in diameter — is securely fastened to the trunk lid of his car and reads as follows:

Pace Setter
Traveling Full
Lawful Speed
Don't Pass

Mr. Miller carries in his pocket a small register on which he tabulates the number of cars that pass him. On the 8th of March he said his register showed that only 15 cars had passed him on the highway this month. He observes all speed zone rules and regulations and is quite enthusiastic over the results that he believes can be obtained if enough of the signs are put into use.

Rotarians Hear Migrant Worker

Miss Elizabeth Sutton of Tennessee, supervisor of migrant education in charge of the first experimental pilot project on the education of migrant children, was guest speaker at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Rotary Club.

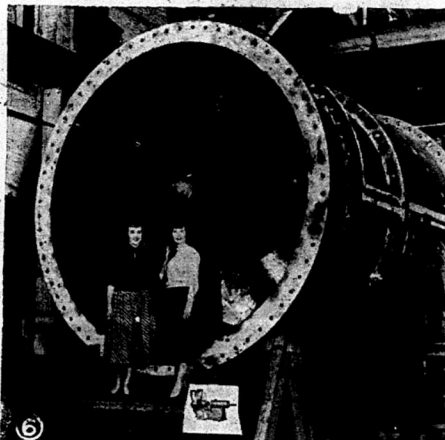

Introduced by Miss Sara Lee Creech of Belle Glade, the speaker, who works not only in Palm Beach County but also in other agricultural areas of the nation that attract migrant labor, told what is being done now and what is needed to be done in the future to improve migrant children's records, transfers, enrollments and attendance in the field of public education. She commended the principals and teachers of Glades Schools for their wholehearted cooperation in the pilot project and pointed out the difficulty of teaching and maintaining complete educational records of the children of parents who follow the vegetable and fruit harvest from one end of the nation to the other as the seasons come and go.

Florida educational records show that approximately 75 per cent of the migrant children are retarded in their formal education after they reach the fifth grade and this situation is not surprising when one considers the fact that a migrant child may attend a dozen different schools during a school year, staying at one school anywhere from a few days to a few months, according to the harvest situation. At the Pahokee White School alone this year 200 migrant children who enrolled during the fall withdrew after a disastrous freeze stopped the harvest of vegetable crops a few weeks ago, the speaker said. Lynn Hunter was in charge of the program and Mrs. John A. Dulany introduced Miss Creech.

C. A. Batchelor, chairman of the American Red Cross drive in the Pahokee-Canal Point area, announced the annual drive will get under way Monday, March 14, and requested the cooperation of the club.

Visitors were James A. King, Carl Grassel of Canal Point, Dr. I. E. Stokes of Meridian, Miss. and Harriess Duncan, Pahokee High School Student.

New Flood-Control Era To Be Launched March 19 When World's Largest Pump Is Put Into Action

Official Florida and thousands of citizens will join in staging a double celebration, Saturday March 19, when a half-century of "drainage" is ended and a new era of flood control launched.

Leading figure will be the "oldest taxpayer," who will have the privilege of burning the last bond of the Everglades Drainage District and figuratively winding up its taxing unit.

Officially, the party will be led by Maj. Gen. Samuel O. Sturgis, chief of engineers, U. S. Army; U. S. Senator Spessard L. Holland; Governor Leroy Collins and all of the living former Governors of Florida.

Former Governor Doyle E. Carlton will act as master of ceremonies at the public celebration and acceptances to take part in the program have been received from John W. Martin Millard F. Caldwell, Fuller Warren and Charley E. Johns.

Members of the Governor's Cabinet, Congressmen from many States, members of the State Legislature, officials of the Corps of Engineers and several State Departments and the Press, all of whom have contributed to the progress of flood control, will be present.

At Belle Glade, in the heart of the Everglades, there'll be a luncheon in honor of Fred C. Elliott, long-time chief engineer for the Everglades Drainage District, whose career is synonymous with the history of Florida's development in water control.

A few hours later, the world's largest low-level pump will be started at Twenty Mile Bend, just half-way to the Coast, and establish one of the key links in the vast 17-county flood control system. Located at the northern end of the water conservation area, occupying more than 750,000 acres in three counties, the pump will be connected directly with Lake Okeechobee and with canals serving thousands of acres of valuable farm land.

Six giant pumps, the largest ever built by Fairbanks, Morse & Co., make Station 5A the world's largest low-lift pumping plant. At the heart of the Central and Southern Florida flood control system, this station can pump 3,195,000,000 gallons of Lake Okeechobee water a day from West Palm Beach Canal into the conservation reservoir to the South.

Just one of the huge pumps can deliver more water than is consumed by the entire population of Florida. Working at capacity for 24 hours, the six units could supply nearly three times the average daily water consumption of the City of New York.

The pumps are the product of nearly six years of planning, design, model studies and construction by Fairbanks-Morse and the Jacksonville District of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. They are horizontal, axialflow propeller pumps, each able to lift 360,000 gal. per minute 11.1 ft. The pumps have to be giants in size to provide the great capacity. Each unit measures 116 inches at the diffusers and water through an elliptical intake 12 by 18-feet. Pump and frame, exclusive of suction and discharge lines, weigh 89 tons. The 160-inch cast-bronze, four-blade propeller itself weighs 6.7 tons.

The station is entirely self-sufficient. Each of the huge pumps is driven by a 1,600 horsepower Fairbanks-Morse opposed-piston diesel, the same engine that won fame powering U. S. Navy submarines and ice breakers. This makes Station 5A the largest self-powered pumping plant in the world. Hurricane damage to power transmission lines can cause no interruption of service at this station. To supply electricity for lighting and motor-driven auxiliary equipment, there are three F-M 1000-kilowatt diesel-generator sets.

The big pumps are ready to operate and all six can be put into service in minutes to meet the threat of heavy rain and high wind.

Ceremonies at the pump station will start at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the 19th, and preparations have been made by a civic committee to take care of more than 6,000 persons. Located on State Road 80, mid-way between West Palm Beach and Lake Okeechobee, the site of the pump station is readily accessible from all parts of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District which embraces 17 counties.

Seating will be provided for as many spectators as possible, bleachers will be erected, the famous Palm Beach Air Base band will be on hand to furnish music and a color guard will raise the flags for the first time over the joint Federal-State installation.

Shuttle buses will be on hand to carry spectators from their parking areas into the pump station grounds and details from the Florida State Highway Patrol, Sheriff and Police departments will handle traffic.

More than 150 committeemen have been working on plans for the celebration, including representatives of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, Palm Beach County Resource Development Board, Belle Glade, Pahokee and Clewiston Chambers of Commerce, Palm Beach County, U. S. Corps of Engineers, Palm Beach Air Force Base, Florida State Advertising Commission, Fairbanks-Morse & Co., and Belcher Oil Co.

CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS

In a report to the State Welfare Board this week, the County Commission approved Confederate Pensions which are being paid to two Palm Beach County residents. Receiving the compensation, the commission reported, are Mrs. Katie Andrews, Boynton Beach and Mrs. Mary McIlwain, who is presently living in High Point, N. C.

TO ATTEND SCHOOL

Mrs. Louise Johnson and Mrs. Juanita Harklow, dispatchers at the Florida Highway Patrol Station in Pahokee, will leave Sunday to attend a FHP Communications School in Tallahassee, returning Friday. A third dispatcher at the local FHP station, Mrs. Juanita Cowart, will leave Sunday, March 27, to attend the same school.

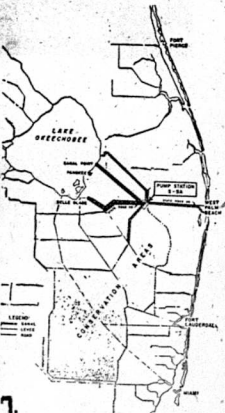

Governor Leroy Collins, flood control supporter as a member of the State Legislature, will give address of welcome at ceremonies.

Senator Spessard L. Holland, Florida's senior solon, who has taken a major role in flood control, as a governor and in the Senate. He will speak at the celebration.

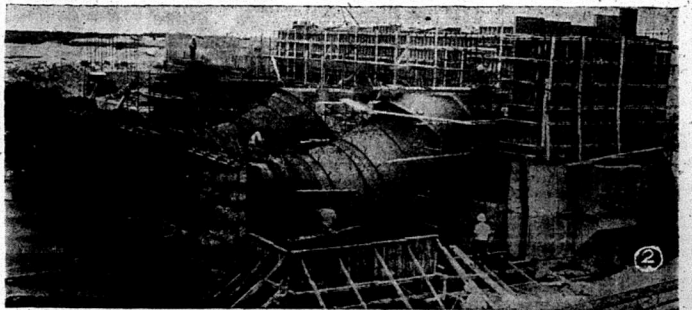

Maj. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army, who will speak at March 19 ceremonies.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The fact that health and holiness result from spiritual understanding of God's nature will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (241: 19-21, 23-24): "The substance of all devotion is the reflection and demonstration of divine Love, healing sickness and destroying sin . . . One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness."
The power of God is also stressed in selections from the James King Version of the Bible including the following (Hebrews 4:12): "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

weeks. Included in the new shipment are: a new safe, a filing cabinet and a canceling machine. The latter piece of equipment has been needed for many years since all outgoing mail has necessarily been cancelled by hand.

The department's interest has not stopped with the new equipment which has been installed and other items to be shipped. Mr. Uptegrove has been sent drawings from the department in Washington from which he has selected other equipment including the following: sorting table, dispatch file in sections, mail racks, general delivery file, COD shelves and cabinets for stamp stock. Through the years the local office has made out with home-made temporary equipment and it now looks like the officials in Washington have recognized the needs and are beginning to fill them.

White Glove
CLEAN

With an electric range in your kitchen, your cooking can be spotless, smudgeless and as clean as a pair of white gloves. But that's only one of the marvelous advantages of clean, electric cooking. Ask your neighbor who cooks electrically. She'll probably delight in telling you how her range cooks cleaner, cooler, faster, safer ...and cheaper, too. Make your own "white glove" test and see how smudge-free pots and pans remain. It's a fact, with an electric range your kitchen can be white glove clean. Isn't it a blessing?

With Reddy Kilowatt on the job, your modern electric water heater will deliver all the hot water you want—when you want it, where you want it.
